

Doctor's Day

May 21 2019

The wealth of the JCC's Men's Club resides not in its treasury but in the richness of the accomplishments of its members. Among the members are those who have achieved success in many fields, including law, psychology, research, pharmacy, city planning, geology, and even rocket science. Also, a dozen physicians ranging in age from the seventies to the mid-nineties, practicing nine different specialties, and representing over four-hundred total years experience, are within our group.

The Men's Club celebrated their physician members by inviting them to join in a program entitled the "JCC Men's Club Doctors' Day". Drs. Herb Tanenbaum, Sol Barr, Sam Itsicoitz, Perry Hookman, Andrew Green, Bruce Smoller, Don Vogel, Dave Gross, Ray Scalletar, and Stu Lessans were asked to form a panel moderated by Dr. Lou Siegel. Stu, Don, Andrew, Herb, and Ray participated to share their collected wisdom and experience.

The panel was asked to share their views on what is was like to be a physician, what they learned about human nature, the highs, and lows, of their careers, and the one thing their fellow members should know about how to be healthy.

The panel was much appreciated by the packed house and gave proof to all who came to listen how lucky they were to be in the JCC Men's Club.
